Subject: EU Green Week 2021: conclusions

Title: Highlights from the EU Green Week

Text:

This year's edition of EU Green Week, Europe's biggest annual environmental event, has closed with record involvement from citizens and stakeholders around the EU.

With almost 600 partner events in 44 countries around Europe – from workshops for kids, discussions on green recovery, hackathons, clean-up actions and citizen engagement activities – Green Week highlighted the power of small individual actions alongside the structural changes that the European Green Deal aims to bring about.

People of all ages and all walks of life – from artists, footballers to chefs – demonstrated how important tackling pollution is to all parts of society. Over 5300 people attended the virtual conference, and an estimated 80000 participated in partner events.

Find out the message from this Green Week about matter related to health, biodiversity, sustainable production and consumption, and social justice.
